

Prof. MUDr. Jiří Raboch, DrSc

Professor Raboch is the past director of the Psychiatric Department, 1st. Faculty of Medicine, Charles University in Prague and General University Hospital and chairman of the Centre for psychiatric and behavioral sciences. He graduated at the School of General Medicine, Charles University in Prague. He is licensed psychiatrist, sexologist and psychotherapist and trained in chronobiotherapy and rTMS. He was president of the Czech Psychiatric Association, is vice-president of the Czech Sexological Society. He is member of the Scientific Advisory Body to the minister of health of the Czech Republic and member of the Academic Senate of the Charles University. He is a fellow of the American Psychiatric Association and honorary member of the World Psychiatric Association and several other medical societies. His recent and ongoing research is oriented to various fields of psychiatry and sexology, including affective disorders, stress, burn-out syndrome, biological factors of neurodegeneration. He is the editor of several editions of the Czech Psychiatric Association Practice Guidelines. 2012 he was awarded a Medal of Merit by the president of the Czech Republic.